The Knapp Family Foundation MA / Doctoral Fellowship | 2022–2023

The Knapp Family Foundation MA/Doctoral Fellowship is intended for advanced students at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem who have shown exceptional excellence, depth and originality in their academic work, and whose research focuses on the phenomena of antisemitism, racism, discrimination and different forms of persecution throughout history, from different disciplinary angles and/or comparative perspectives in the fields of Humanities, Social Sciences, Natural Sciences and Law.

The Fellowship is offered for the academic year 2022–2023. An extension may be granted for one more year, conditional on significant progress in the research and approval by SICSA's Academic Committee. Fellows are expected to be present at the Center for no less than three days a week and to participate in the Center's academic activities.

The Fellowship offers an annual stipend of $12,000 for MA students or $15,000 for PhD students.

Submissions should include: statement of research plan (3 pages, with title); curriculum vitae and list of publications (for PhD students); two recommendation letters; grades sheet and complete contact information.

Last date to submit applications is April 30, 2022.
